Create or Link Your Lone Wolf Account Profile

Context

Before you can log into Lone Wolf Account and begin using the portal's functionality, you must first create your Lone Wolf Account profile and set up your login credentials. When you log into any of your Lone Wolf products, you are automatically prompted to create your Lone Wolf Account profile, and then log into the profile.

After creating your Lone Wolf Account credentials, if you log into another instance of brokerWOLF, you are prompted to create a Lone Wolf Account profile, even if you already created one in your first instance of brokerWOLF. Instead of creating two sets of credentials, you can link all your brokerWOLF credentials together.

The next time you log into brokerWOLF, you are no longer prompted to create a profile, and use your single set of credentials for both instances.

Before you begin

Required: Internet connection, valid login credentials for any Lone Wolf product

Steps

Create a Lone Wolf Account Profile

1. Log in to any Lone Wolf product, such as brokerWOLF or WOLFconnect, using your existing login credentials.
